“punk rock pros” - Grammy.com

“SUPERCHARGED... is a straightforward blast of their brand of rock and roll.” - Spin Magazine

“The Offspring are one of the most popular and influential bands from the '90s mainstream punk world. It's refreshing to see them not only continue to make music, but deliver top-notch sounds that really take one back to the golden era of the mainstream punk movement.” - Blabbermouth

“The Offspring in 2024 are as technically complex and professional as ever, their songs packed with air-guitar potential.” - Punktastic

(October 11th, 2024) - Today, punk rock legends The Offspring have released their high energy album SUPERCHARGED. The album, produced by the band's longtime collaborator Bob Rock, was recorded in Maui, Vancouver and Huntington Beach and is available via Concord Records. Listen to SUPERCHARGED HERE.

In celebration of the new music, the band recently performed their #1 single “Make It All Right” on Jimmy Kimmel Live's coveted outdoor stage to a massive crowd of fans. Watch the full performance of “Make It All Right” HERE.

The performance was just one of many press appearances the band has had this week including a full feature on frontman Dexter Holland in Men's Health where he talks about his fitness routine, his love of aviation and his dissertation to finish his PHD at USC. Read the full interview HERE and “Gym & Fridge” Video HERE. In addition, both Dexter and Noodles were featured as Alternative Press's digital cover stars (see cover here & read interview here).

In addition, The band has chatted with Billboard News (watch here), Spin Magazine (read here), Artist Friendly with Joel Madden (clip HERE & full interview HERE), NPR/Consequence of Sound's “Kyle Meredith With” Podcast (watch hear), Stereogum (read here), Bertcast with Bert Kreischer (watch here) and more!

In addition to the full album debut, the band has released a brand new lyric video for album focus track “Okay, But This Is The Last Time.” In the video you can see a couple who go to “electrifying” feats to keep their relationship alive, or each other alive! Official music video coming soon! Watch the lyric video for “Okay, But This is the Last Time” HERE coming out today!

This past month Dexter joined fellow California natives, and legendary American rock band The Beach Boys at Ocean's Calling Festival. Dexter surprised fans when he performed "Wouldn't It Be Nice" with The Beach Boys. See photo HERE and video of the performance HERE. This marks the first time this year Dexter has been the surprise guest onstage for another band as recently The Offspring has had a string of special guests joining them onstage including: Yungblud at Switzerland's Open Air Gampel Festival for The Offspring's "Self Esteem, (watch here)" Ed Sheeran broke the internet when he join them at BottleRock Festival for The Offspring's "Million Miles Away" (see here) and Queen's Brian May performed with them for a rendition of The Offspring's "Gone Away" and a cover of Queen's "Stone Cold Crazy." Watch "Gone Away" HERE & "Stone Cold Crazy" HERE.

The album comes after the band's recent social media influenced release "Come To Brazil." The Offspring have fans from all over the world, but the new track celebrates their fans who are asking them to (literally) "Come To Brazil." The track produced by Bob Rock (Metallica, Mötley Crüe, Aerosmith) is another killer track off of the band's SUPERCHARGED album out October 11th via Concord Records. Listen to "Come To Brazil" HERE.

On the track Dexter Holland says: "Every time we announce any shows we get comments from our Brazilian fans saying 'Come to Brazil!' which we love! Brazil really does go off. It has enthusiasm, passion and is an amazing place to play! I hope the Brazilian fans really make this one their own!"

The song opens up with an iconic intro featuring heavy guitars and ends with the iconic football chant "Olé, Olé, Olé, Olé" all the while talking about how their Brazilian fans can't get enough of The Offspring, noting lyrically: "It doesn't matter how many times we came, 'Cause they want us back again just the same, And the flights are long but they won't stop, Until we come to Brazil." The song also comments on the social media requests the band has received from their Brazilian fans noting: "DM'ing all the time, they're begging you will say you'll come to Brazil."

The new track is already a fan favorite, especially with their Brazilian fans who have been posting about the song non-stop (see video here).

The track follows their recent #1 song "Make It All Right" which hit #1 on BOTH the Alternative Airplay Chart (Mediabase) AND the Active Rock Chart (on Mediabase) as well as #1 on the Billboard Rock & Alternative Airplay Chart. In addition, the band has also released the high energy track "Light It Up."

"Make It All Right" marks the band's sixth #1 song on the Active Rock Chart, following "I Choose" (1997), "Pretty Fly (For A White Guy)" (1998), "The Kids Aren't Alright" (1999), "Hit That" (2003), and "Gone Away" (1997)-which remained on #1 on the chart for 5 consecutive weeks and the song that Queen's own Brian May performed with them earlier this year. It also marks the first time ever The Offspring have had a #1 at both Alternative and Active Rock radio in the band's history!

On the Alternative Airplay Chart "Make It All Right" marks the band's fourth #1 song on the Alternative Airplay Chart following "Come Out and Play (Keep 'Em Separated)" in 1994, "Hit That" in 2003, and recent Spotify Billions Club inductee "You're Gonna Go Far, Kid" which hit #1 for 11 weeks straight in 2008. This only adding to the accolades the band has hit over the years with over 40 million records sold worldwide.

Not to mention the song hit #1 on Billboard's Rock & Alternative Airplay chart. The #1 follows "Days Go By" which hit #4 in 2012 and "Coming for You" (No. 7 in 2015) and "Let The Bad Times Roll" (No. 5 in 2021) which hit Top 10. The song just continues to climb!

Look out for more information and more tour dates coming soon for 2025!

About The Offspring

The Offspring is an American rock band from Garden Grove, California, formed in 1984. Originally formed under the name Manic Subsidal, the band's lineup consists of lead vocalist and rhythm guitarist Dexter Holland, lead guitarist Noodles, bassist Todd Morse, drummer Brandon Pertzborn and multi-instrumentalist Jonah Nimoy. Over the course of their longstanding career, they have released ten studio albums. The Offspring is often credited—alongside fellow California bands Green Day and Rancid—for reviving mainstream interest in rock in the 1990s. They have sold over 40 million records worldwide, making them one of the best-selling rock bands in history.
